

Practical 27

Write a program to store a character string in block of memory space created by malloc and then modify the same to store a large string.